

Life Path Consultations

A basic past, present, future, 'how will my life turn out' reading is ok if you're looking for an old energy style of reading where you're prepared to relinquish being the captain of your ship and control of your own life.

But... in this Now Age of personal responsibility and spirited/spiritual empowerment, IntuiChic is taking the lead and ushering you to the front seat of your own personal journey of spirited success and happiness.

In the past, I used to give readings as part of my professional service and they were a huge success of accuracy and evidence of the psychic arts. However, in terms of delivering the kind of service to my clients that was most comprehensively empowering, I felt that these types of readings fell short. Why?

Because there was a perception, and a historically fostered need, that accompanied 'readings' and that was that the future foreseen for clients was outside of their control, that life was a fait accompli, something waiting to happen to them rather than the truth, which is that life happens with you, under your own power of creation.

In addition, the calibre of people I attracted to work with wanted more too, they didn't just want a 'shopping list' of outcomes with no spiritual understanding, they wanted insight into their life path, their soul's purpose and spirited evolution during their lifetime. I decided to stand by what I knew to be true and the choice became clear,

Out with the old and in with the new!

The new is IntuiChic's Life Path Consultations which are a combination of the authentic utilisation of intuitive coaching, metaphysical principles and strategies, Neuro-Linguistic Programming, mediumship and the psychic arts together with intuitive development skills and life purpose understanding.

All of the people that we choose to work with know there is so much more to living a successful and happy life than just waiting to see what happens. Because the truth is, you make it happen by co-creating and manifesting all that you can be; which means you can get to experience every richness heaven and earth has to offer.

If this is the kind of clarity and empowerment you want in your life, then we're looking forward to hearing from you. You can contact us here:
